Sharing the Light

The Academy

The MCF Academy will be the first tuition-free school of its kind for abandoned children and orphans in post-war Liberia. Not only will the Academy provide 200 students a free education, but also food and boarding. When the school opens in Fall 2010, the 75 abandoned children from the DuPort Road community, who are currently enrolled MCF's sponsorship program, will transfer to the MCF Academy, and 125 additional children will be admitted based on need and merit.

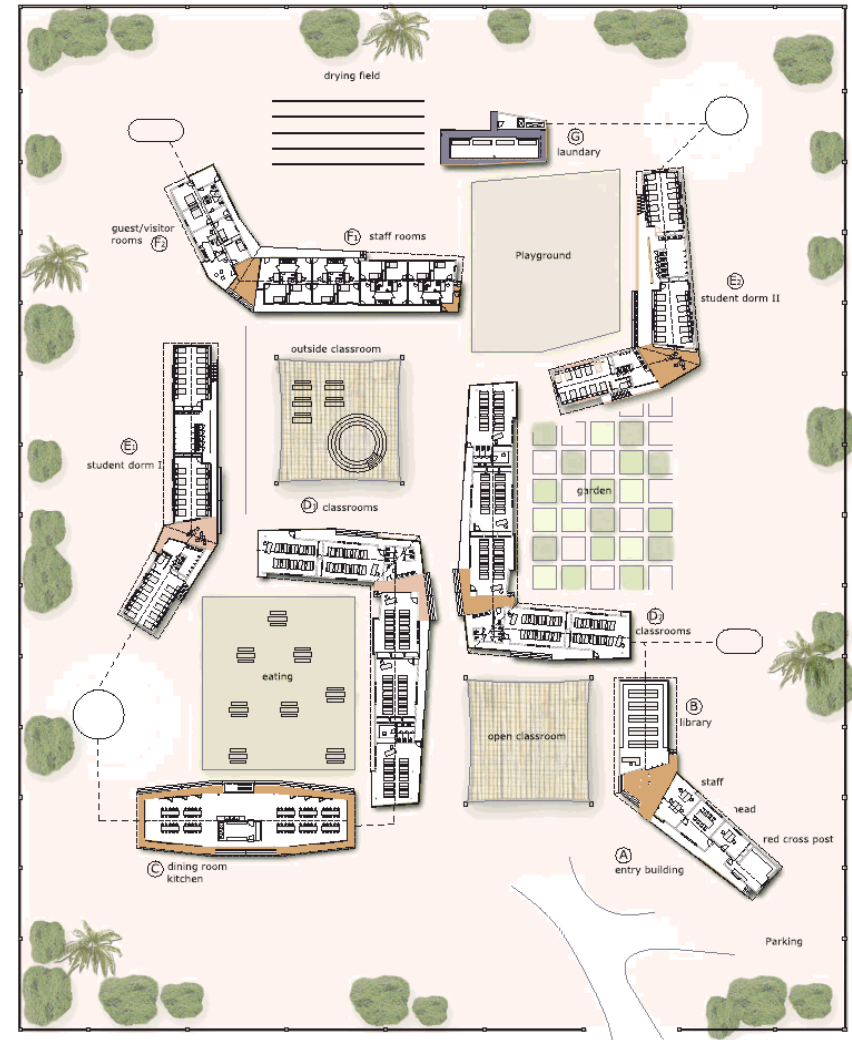

The Academy will allow MCF to further its mission to empower Liberian youth, especially orphans and abandoned children, by providing education and the basic necessities of food, clothing, and shelter. Our vision is to give as many Liberian children as possible the chance to escape the poverty cycle and grow in the nurturing environment of an MCF Academy, so that they can lead Liberia toward an economically strong and politically stable future.

Fundraising Goal: $800,000
